

Literature • Realistic

Grade	1	Word Count	207
Lexile	450L	Multi-level	N/A
Learning A–Z	level H

Refer to the Focus Question on page 2 of this title to guide discussion and support additional learning connected to the text.

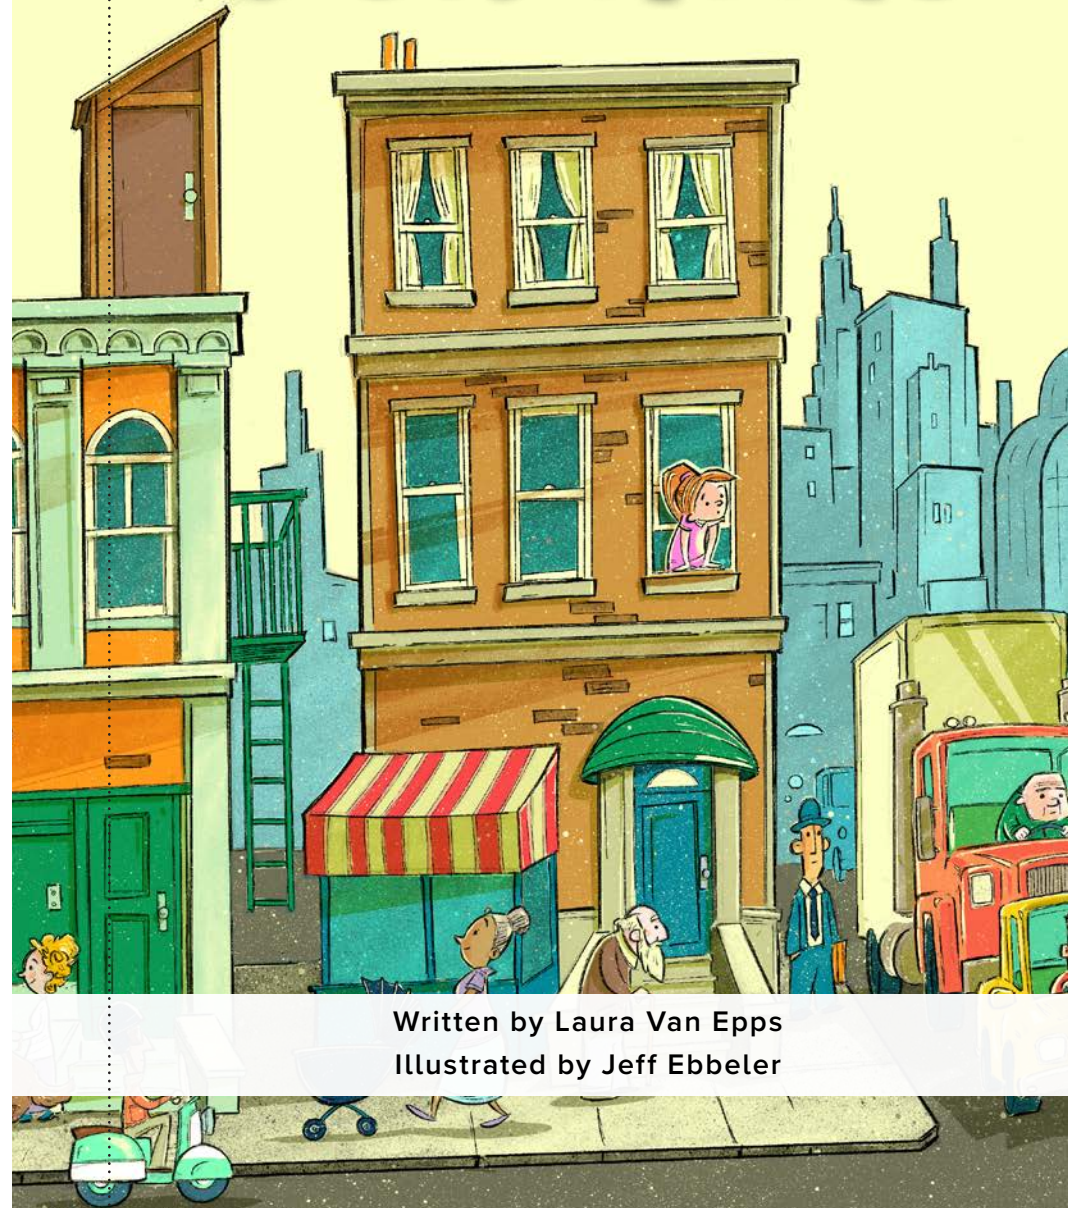

When Molly and her dad move from the country to the city, Molly misses her old home. Molly's dad tries to cheer her up, but nothing helps until Molly meets a new friend. Molly's New Home is a sweet story about change and the power of friendship. Colorful and detailed illustrations accompany the text.

Learning A-Z™

For more great books visit www.learninga-z.com

© Learning A–Z, all rights reserved.

Molly's New Home

Written by Laura Van Epps

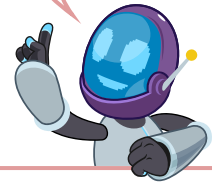

Illustrated by Jeff Ebbeler

Written by Laura Van Epps
Illustrated by Jeff Ebbeler

Focus Question

How do Molly's feelings about her new home change during the story? Why?

Words to Know

bakery	sweet
cheer	swing
stale	traffic

Connections

Writing and Art

Draw a picture of Molly's old home and one of her new home. Write about how they are the same and different.

Social Studies

What can you do to help a friend who misses home? Share your ideas with a partner.

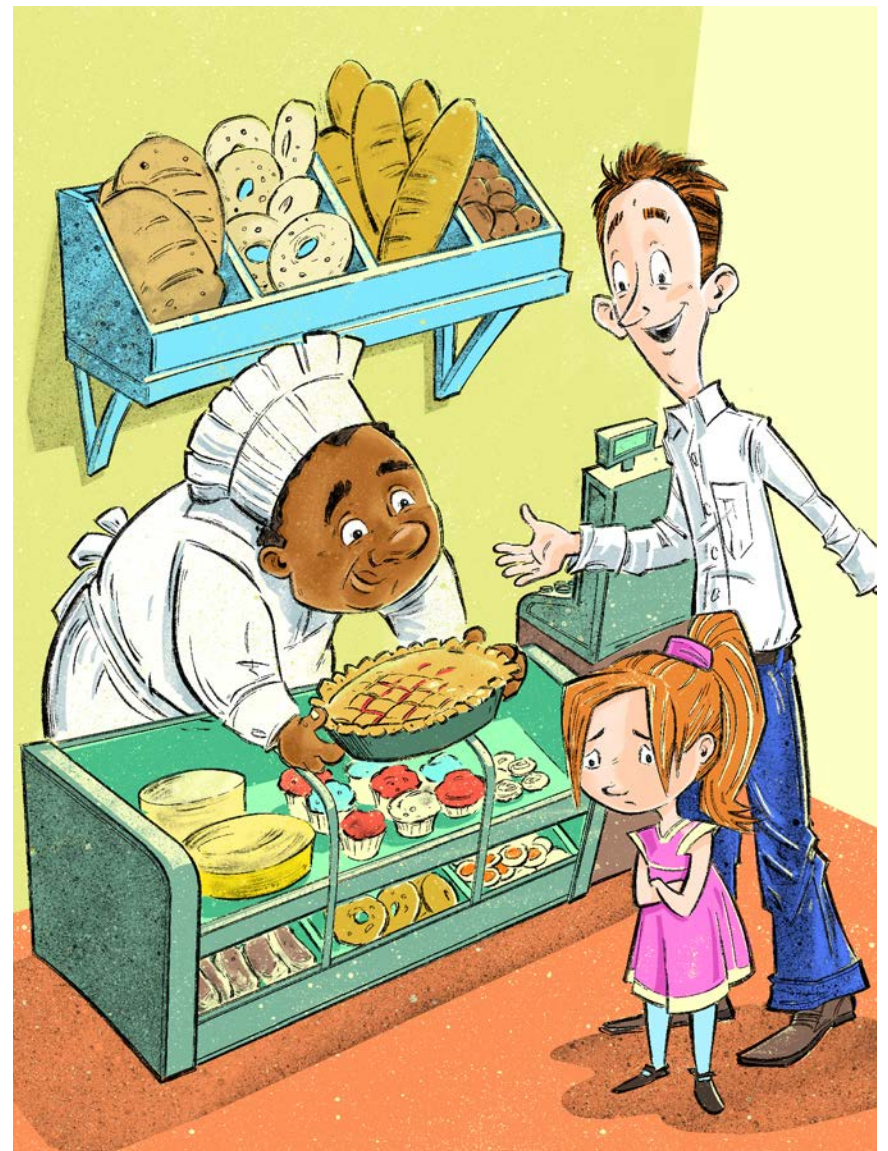

Molly sat in her new room.
She and her dad had just moved to the city.
Their old home was in the country.
Nothing was the same.

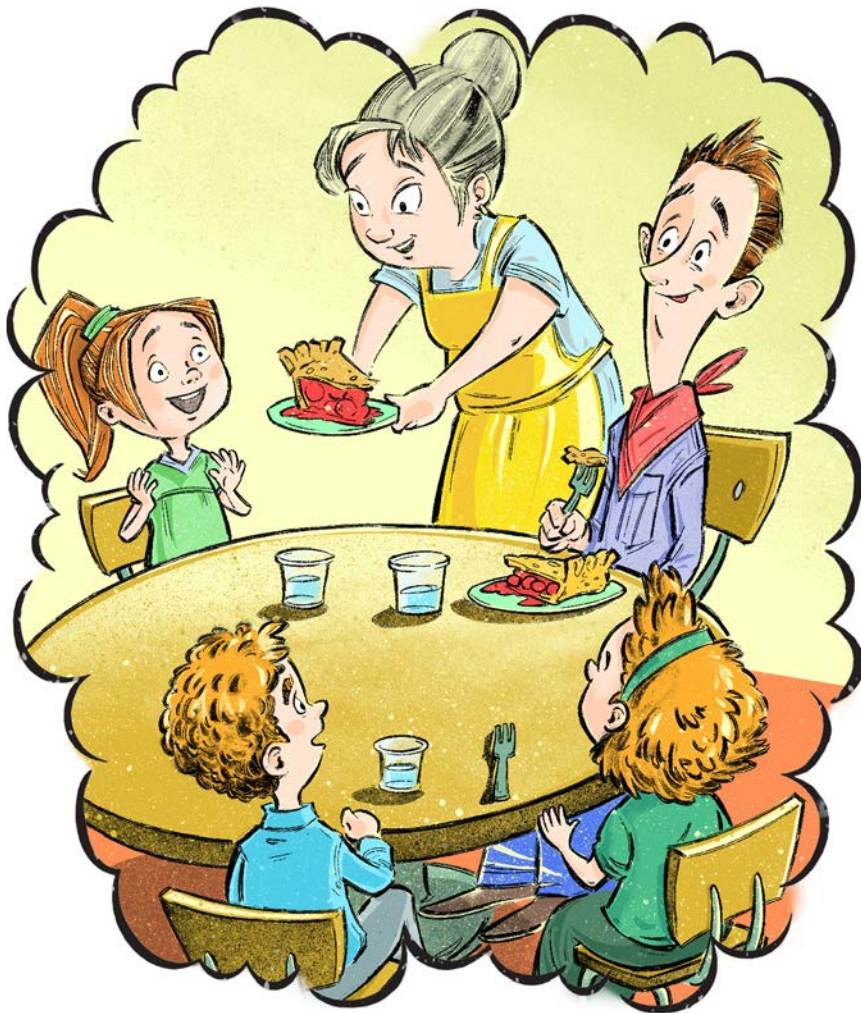

Her old home had a big yard.
It had tall trees and a tire swing.
Molly and her cousins would play
for hours.

This home was always loud.
There was nothing but traffic
outside.

Dad tried to cheer Molly up.
He got a cherry pie at the bakery
down the street.

Molly loved cherry pie.
Her aunt used to bake one each week.
Her pie was warm and sweet.
This pie was cold and stale.

Molly pushed the plate away.
“I miss our home,” she said.
Dad gave her a sad smile.

A few days later, a family came over.
They lived next door.

Their girl was the same age as Molly.
“I’m Nina. Would you like to come to the park with us?” she asked.

Molly didn't know the city had parks.
Dad said they could go.

There were no tall trees in the park.
There was a tire swing, though!

Molly and Nina played for hours.

Later, they shared Nina's favorite cookies.

They were warm and sweet.

Molly smiled.
Maybe the city is okay after all,
she thought.

Glossary

bakery (n.) page 6

a place that makes and sells bread, cakes, and other baked food cheer (v.) page 6

to make someone happier

stale (adj.) page 7

no longer fresh or delicious; old and dry sweet (adj.) page 7

having the taste of sugar

swing (n.) page 4

a seat that hangs from ropes or chains and moves back and forth

traffic (n.) page 5

the movement of vehicles on a road or highway